Waskada Museum

The museum opens on July 2 this summer Monday to Friday from 9:30 to 4:00 and on Saturday, Sunday from 1:00 to 4:00.

We opened the season on June 18th with a visit from K-8 students from Waskada School. This event featured the operation of the Blacksmith Shop, a tour of all six buildings and a demonstration of harnessing an ox and hitching it to a cart. Many thanks to Dan Meggison who was in charge of the blacksmithing and George, the Ox. Thanks also to the tour guides and school staff who accompanied the students.

This year we have some new artifacts on display for the public. We have acquired a Luftkin oil pumpjack which was set up at the museum by Tundra Oil and Gas which will become part of our plan to create an historical record of the oil industry in Southwest Manitoba.

We also have on display a horse-drawn Democrat , a two-seated buggy. This will complement the Mclaughlin buggy on display which was considered one of the best in the business in the late 1800s and early 1900s.

We also have a Massey Harris tractor which was originally owned by the RCAF during WWII and used at the Service Flying Training School at Hartney, MB for towing airplanes at this relief field.

The museum features artifacts which represent the lifestyle of the early pioneers and the people who operated the businesses in the area. This includes daily life at home, at work, at school, church, business activity, medical and veterinary items, military involvement. It also looks at ways people found entertainment through sports, movies, music, fairs, and family get-togethers.

The members of the museum committee invite everyone to come and explore the museum and discover the stories of the past.

For example, learn how a 17-year-old sailor who was an apprentice on the Cutty Sark, a fast sailing ship involved in the tea trade in the 1800s, was caught up in a mutiny and helped navigate the ship to shore. He eventually became a prominent member of the Waskada community in 1900 and was responsible for the development of Waskada Park.

Come and learn more!

Mission: To facilitate healthy aging by providing leadership and encouraging collaboration in creating age-friendly places (communities) that optimize the ability of all older Manitobans to do the things they feel are important.

Strengthening Community Ties: The Importance of Embracing Age-Friendly Initiatives

In today's rapidly evolving societies, the concept of age-friendliness isn't just a matter of accommodating the elderly; it's about nurturing inclusive communities that thrive on diversity and mutual support. Embracing age-friendly initiatives is a strategic imperative for fostering robust, resilient communities.

Here's why:

- Inclusivity Breeds Strength: An age-friendly community is one that values and includes people of all ages and abilities. By creating environments that accommodate the needs of older adults, we inadvertently design spaces that benefit everyone. Accessibility ramps, well-lit streets, and public seating not only support the elderly but also parents with strollers, individuals with disabilities, and anyone seeking comfort and convenience. When no one feels left behind, the entire community flourishes.
- Interconnected Generations: Age-friendly initiatives encourage meaningful interactions between different age groups. Whether through volunteer programs, mentorship opportunities, or social gatherings, these initiatives bridge generational divides and foster mutual understanding and respect. Younger generations learn from the wisdom and experience of older adults, while seniors feel valued and engaged, reducing social isolation and loneliness. Stronger bonds between generations create a sense of belonging and solidarity that transcends age.
- Promoting Active Aging: An age-friendly community promotes active, healthy living for all residents. By providing safe outdoor spaces, recreational facilities, and wellness programs, older adults are empowered to lead fulfilling, independent lives. Encouraging physical activity and social engagement not only enhances individual well-being but also alleviates pressure on healthcare systems. Healthy, active seniors contribute to vibrant communities by sharing their knowledge, skills, and experiences.

- Resilience in Diversity: Embracing age-friendly principles prepares communities for demographic shifts and changing needs. As populations age, communities that invest in age-friendly infrastructure and services are better equipped to adapt and thrive. From accessible transportation options to affordable housing and healthcare services, proactive planning ensures that no one is left behind. By prioritizing inclusivity and accessibility, communities build resilience to economic, social, and environmental challenges.
- Economic Benefits: Age-friendly communities attract investment and drive economic growth. By catering to the needs of older adults, businesses can tap into a growing market segment and create products and services that enhance the quality of life for all residents. Moreover, age-friendly environments attract retirees and older adults seeking desirable places to live, work, and play, contributing to local economies and revitalizing neighborhoods.

In conclusion, embracing age-friendly initiatives is about building stronger, more resilient communities that celebrate diversity and inclusivity. By promoting interconnectedness, active aging, and economic vitality, age-friendly communities pave the way for a brighter, more prosperous future for people of all ages. It's time for communities everywhere to recognize the importance of embracing age-friendly principles and invest in the well-being of their residents, today and for generations to come.

How Do You Promote Age-Friendly to Your Community?

Here are some ideas to consider on how to engage your community members to join your age-friendly initiative. It is important to emphasize inclusivity, participation, and collaboration....

- ✓ Community Meetings and Workshops: Organize regular community meetings and workshops to introduce the age-friendly initiative, share information about its goals and objectives, and invite community members to contribute ideas and suggestions. These meetings can serve as platforms for dialogue, fostering a sense of ownership and commitment among participants.
- ✓ Surveys and Needs Assessments: Conduct surveys and needs assessments to gather input from community members about their experiences, challenges, and priorities related to aging. Use the findings to inform the development of the age-friendly initiative and tailor interventions to address specific needs identified by residents.
- ✓ Volunteer Opportunities: Create opportunities for community members to get involved as volunteers in various aspects of the age-friendly initiative, such as organizing events, conducting outreach, or serving on advisory committees. Volunteering can empower residents to make meaningful contributions to their community while fostering a sense of belonging and purpose.
- ✓ Intergenerational Activities: Organize intergenerational activities and events that bring together people of different ages to promote social connection and mutual understanding. By fostering interactions between older adults and younger generations, you can build empathy, combat ageism, and promote a culture of respect and inclusion.
- ✓ Community Partnerships: Forge partnerships with local businesses, schools, faith-based organizations, and other community groups to expand outreach and engagement efforts. Collaborating with diverse stakeholders can broaden the reach of the age-friendly initiative and mobilize support from across the community.
- ✓ Digital Engagement: Utilize digital platforms and social media to disseminate information, share updates, and engage with community members online. Create a dedicated website or social media pages for the age-friendly initiative where residents can access resources, participate in discussions, and stay informed about upcoming events.
- ✓ Community Events and Activities: Organize community events and activities that promote active aging and foster social connections, such as health fairs, fitness classes, cultural celebrations, or outdoor recreational activities. These events provide opportunities for residents to engage with the age-friendly initiative in a fun and interactive way.
- ✓ Community Champions: Identify and empower community champions—individuals who are passionate about aging issues and committed to driving positive change in their neighborhoods. Empower these champions to serve as advocates and ambassadors for the age-friendly initiative, mobilizing support and inspiring others to get involved.
- ✓ Recognition and Appreciation: Recognize and appreciate the contributions of community members who actively participate in the age-friendly initiative. Whether through public acknowledgments, awards, or appreciation events, celebrate the efforts of volunteers, advocates, and partners who are making a difference in creating a more age-friendly community.
- ✓ Feedback and Evaluation: Solicit feedback from community members on an ongoing basis to assess the effectiveness of the age-friendly initiative and identify areas for improvement. By actively listening to the voices of residents and incorporating their feedback into decision-making processes, you can ensure that the initiative remains responsive to community needs and priorities.
- ✓ Remember, your Age-Friendly consultant is happy to assist you along the way!
